

UNIVERSITY FIVE DROPS ITS FIRST GAME TO AGGIES

Las Cruces Team Takes Lead, Then Loses It, but Forges Ahead Before Final Whistle Blows.

The University shared honors with the Aggies in the basketball double-header at the armory last night. The university girls won 29 to 18, while the varsity five lost, 37 to 34, to the former boys.

The defending of the university puts a big question mark in its claims to the state championship and creates a condition somewhat parallel to the football championship question. The Silver City Normal school trimmed the Aggies, then the university beat the normal school, and the Aggies pushed down the varsity.

The Aggies got the jump on the varsity boys in the first half and at the end of that period led by the score of 22 to 14. The varsity made a desperate effort to overtake the fast farmers in the next section of the game. They did. They passed the Aggies and held their lead until near the close of the final period. The Aggies epitomized on the stretch and wrested the margin away from Hutchinson's five. They held it from then on.

Their teamwork and the accurate basket shooting of Wharton and Humble were chiefly the causes of the Aggie victory.

The university girls lay claim to the state championship, yet having lost a game except the one forfeited to the Silver City Normals. The university could have won from them previously.

TORRES SCORES HIT IN MEMPHIS; LIKELY TO BOX THERE AGAIN

Jack Torres must have punched his way into high favor with Memphisians Monday night. The promoters of that city are trying to sign Johnny Griffiths for a fight with the Albuquerque lightweight for February 21, or 28.

Coyle Shear, sport-writer of the Memphis News-Sunbeam, says Torres "looks to be as promising a kid as has ever come down the pike." Here is Shear's account of the fight in the News-Sunbeam:

"Kid Foster, of San Antonio, Tex., had another date with the big today, following his terrific Monday night fight with the Phoenix with Jack Torres, of Denver, Col. The only trouble is that the knockout goes on the wrong side of the ledger, for Billy Haack stepped in and stopped the bout in the third round to prevent further slaughter of the Texan. Torres therefore gets credit for a regular knockout."

"When Haack stopped the bout, Foster's mug was smeared with blood that trickled steadily from his bridge. For the Mexican played the national anthem in four keys on that portion of the Texan's anatomy.

"At no time during the contest did Foster have the ghost of a show with Torres who looks to be as promising a kid as has ever come down the pike."

Jack peppered Foster's face in the first round and then crossed a right to the chin for a knockdown. Foster took the count of nine and was saved by the bell.

"He managed to get by the second round without any serious mishap, but out Waterloo built up in the third. At this point Torres started hitting Foster from his bridge to his head, and he kept it up so speedily that the Kid couldn't figure where the next blow was coming from; all he knew was that it undoubtedly would arrive—which it did."

"When Haack stopped the battle Foster stood in the center of the ring in apparent amazement, wondering why Haack had done such a rash thing."

"The reason Haack stopped that contest was because he hasn't gone in the undercard business yet."

Benny Chaver will meet Laustina again Monday night, in Kansas City.

COMPETITION WILL BE HELD IN WIDELY SEPARATED CITIES

New York, Feb. 11.—With a view to bringing about the best results from both athletic and financial standpoint, the championship committee of the Amateur Athletic Union announced tonight it had placed the different competitions for 1916 in widely separated section of the country.

The track and field events will be decided in this city on March 18, also the 220 yard swim and the fancy diving events which will be held in the New York Athletic clubs mark the following month. Wrestling and armwrestling, which have been at all three popular New York, N. Y., sites, will be staged again this spring in that city. The boxing championships, which have proved to be by far the most remunerative of the national contests, will be decided under the auspices of the Boston Athletic association at Boston during the first week of April.

The Central association will have charge of the baseball championship at Chicago during the third week of March. During the same month two other organizations—the Illinois Athletic club and the Chicago A. A. will take care of the winter polo contests and several swimming events.

The 300 yards swim has been awarded to the Pittsburgh A. A., while the two remaining tank competitions will be decided at St. Louis under the direction of the Missouri Athletic club of that city.

SIX DESPERATE ROBBERS CAUGHT, DETECTIVES SAY

Three Men and Three Women Alleged to Have Taken Cash and Stamps From U. S. Collector, Arrested.

Judge Heacock and H. B. Cornell will file quo warranto proceedings against Chief A. C. Burless.

The removal of the fire department case from the council to the jurisdiction of the district court will take place today, it was learned from Judge W. C. Dragoon, counsel for Chief J. Klein, last night that he intended to file quo warranto proceedings today in District Clerk Thomas K. D. Madison's office, challenging the authority of the collector of New Westminster, B. C., branch of the bank of Montreal.

The prisoners, who lived in Chicago, are Michael J. Flannigan, saloon keeper and wife; Edward Leonard, alleged ex-convict, and wife; John J. Ziehl and wife.

Get Back Most of Booty.

The U. S. Post robbery engaged the attention of secret service men, revenue agents and officials of the principal detective agencies of a number of cities.

The stamps taken were negotiable and every wheel in the government machinery was set going for their recovery. Clerks will work all night counting the amount recovered, but it is believed that the two trunks contained most of the booty. The stamps ranged in denominations from one cent to five hundred dollars.

The alleged solution of the case started when several of the secret service men came to the conclusion that the robbery suggested the Canadian bank looting. In this connection it was recalled that Flannigan was arrested on the charge of passing money thought to have come from the bank. He cleared himself of the charge but not of the suspicions of detectives working on the case. Work began with the shadowing of his house and studio.

Trunks Give Clue.

Two trunks, said to have been those recovered, were brought to the house by Leonard. He was followed and it was learned that prior to the robbery Mr. and Mrs. Leonard rented a house in Minneapolis. The booty, it is alleged, was brought from St. Paul in an automobile, which had been traced to this house.

Detectives and secret service men watched all last night outside Leonard's home and that of Flannigan and then made the arrests.

MAUD POWELL.

And then a hundred times again:

MAUD POWELL!

"Picture to yourself a dainty, slimmering, brown-clad figure, a fine face, strong face, a good, wholesome honest face; laughing eyes and winsome smile—and you have Maud Powell."

"Picture again, a womanly gray, an almost manly strength of arm, an irreproachable technic, an imperceptible pitch, an upper range of strangely ethereal beauty, an exquisiteness of sentiment with not a trace of sentimentality and a delicacy of finish and human loveliness beyond all compare, save with Kreisler—and you have Maud Powell."

"Tell you that America can thank God for at least one great artist, and one sterling, womanly woman, in the one pretty, slight form of Maud Powell."

"I do not wonder that the eastern critics insist on comparing this wonderful little woman with the greatest male artists of the violin sphere. She has amazing strength for one so slimly built; and yet, the more amazing thing is that she does not sacrifice the tiniest vestige of that sweet delicacy which, after all, is the noblest crown of true womanhood."

Albuquerque will have her chance to grow enthusiastic over Madame Powell's art next Monday evening, when the great artist will appear in recital at the high school auditorium.

TRYING $40,000 SUIT AGAINST THE VICTOR AMERICAN

Administrator of Estate of Nick Livich, who was killed in Navajo Mine, seeks heavy damages.

The case of A. T. Bennett administrator of the estate of Nick Livich, against the Victor American Fuel company was still on trial in United States Court yesterday afternoon. Plaintiff, Mr. Bennett, attorney for the estate, filed a motion for judgment in the sum of $40,000 for the death of Livich, who was crushed to death in a fall in the Navajo mine near Gallup December 9, 1914. Mr. Bennett, of Gallup, and Vail & Jamison represent the plaintiff. Col. R. E. Twissell is attorney for the defendant.

The transcript in the case of the German Sanitarium company against the Treasure Mining and Reduction company, removed from the district court of Grant county, Colo., to the federal court in Denver, shows that the plaintiff alleges that it was given judgment against the mining company in the sum of $40,000 for the death of Livich.
